The Message Of Safar...

“THERE IS NO CONTAGION”

ALL Beliefs, Talks & Fear-Mongering
Regarding Contagion Is Pure

BALDERDASH!!!

This Is The 1400-Year-Old Message Of Safar!

Nabi (Sallallahu alaihi wasallam) clearly said, “There is NO contagion (of disease), no evil omens (with owls, etc.) and no (bad luck in the month of) Safar.” (Bukhari Shareef)

Whilst this Hadith has gained much fame in the sense of it being echoed almost on all the Manaabir (pulpits) of the Masaajid, however, the powerful message it contains regarding CONTAGION and superstition appears not to have settled in the hearts of Muslims as yet. It is truly the Ihsaan (kindness and favour) of our beloved Rasoolullah (Sallallahu alaihi wasallam) to lovingly remove humanity out of the dark dungeons of the balderdash contagion theories, superstitions, bad omens, etc. to the Bright Effulgent Noor (Light) of Islaam through his blessed words such as those mentioned in the Hadith Shareef above.

In that era, the Arabs lived with much superstition. Their superstition was taken from the direction pigeons flew in the sense that a particular direction was regarded as good luck or a go-ahead signal for a journey, business venture, etc., while flying the opposite direction was regarded as bad luck or a no-go zone. They also had certain omens regarding bats. Like that, the month of Safar was regarded as a month of bad luck to them. Similarly, contagion of diseases was given weight by them just as this is given attention currently – unfortunately, even by Muslims and the learned – in the current era of deception and lies which ooze out from the mouths and tongues of scientists, atheists, so-called ‘learned’ men, leaders, presidents and kings.

May Allah Ta’ala remove from every Ummati the qualities of the Arabs of bygone ages which they had regarding luck / omens, months and diseases. May Allah Ta’ala give each one of us a healthy, strong and a deep understanding of His beautiful Deen. Currently, among the old people, they still have superstitious beliefs. These beliefs are imported from a 'Kitaab' called 'The Laal Kitaab' (red book) as said by some Ulama commenting on these superstitious beliefs. There is NO basis for such superstitions, nor is there any authenticity of such a Kiataab – if it does even exist!

Unfortunately, today also, Muslims have weird superstitious beliefs. Unfortunate situations and results are attributed to things. This is indeed a shortcoming in us which we should come out of immediately. The last Kalimah – Imaan-e-Mufassal – together with its meaning should be read to remedy this. Insha Allah, it will be effective.

Some examples of superstitious beliefs are, walking under a ladder, a black cat jumping in front of someone on the road, getting married in the month of Safar, etc. These innocent happenings are superstitiously attributed to having evil coming one's way, meeting in an accident, marriage not working out, etc. All this is baseless!

Likewise, the balderdash of contagion is refuted in this same Hadith Shareef mentioned above. Note that there are few Ahaadith – with different wordings – recorded in various Kitaabs regarding this subject of Safar, bad omens and contagion. While the wording or order may be different of these Ahaadith, the underlying clear message of ALL such Ahaadith is the NEGATION of such beliefs. Alhamdulillah, many Ulama-e-Haq have used this Hadith in the month of Safar to remind us to discard all such bogey beliefs. Indeed, these are the lessons of the month of Safar. And these lessons are revised annually, during Safar, Alhamdulillah. We should work hard to practically implement these lessons into our lives.

Our main focus in this article is the current talk in town by the scientists regarding 'contagion' of the supposedly 'deadly' disease called covid-19. While the scientists have harped on how deadly and contagious the virus is, with this they have duped the masses into accepting their cruel lockdowns, illogical curfews, the donning of lung-damaging masks, the use of alcoholic sanitizers and now, the pumping of bogey ingredients in the name of a jab with no one taking any liability of any health issues arising thereafter, which again is harped as 'the cure for covid' or Dajjalized as 'the only cure for covid'. If this cure is truly 'effective', why then there is no one taking the liability for adverse effects of the jab? May Allah Ta'ala open the eyes of every human being into seeing the reality, Aameen.

An honourable Mufti Saheb had mentioned to us that he has books by him which are written by scientists on the same 1400-year-old message of Safar proving that THERE IS NO CONTAGION! The trend of Shaitaan is to make the world conceal the scientists who are on this side of the fence with anti-contagion views on diseases. Rather, they keep drilling the views of those scientists who agree to the balderdash of 'contagion in diseases', in particular this virus. Is this not 'indoctrination'? Is this not a reason why MEDIA – mainstream media – should NOT be believed, but rather be chucked out of one's life?!

The very protocols dished out by these scientists have unfortunately been welcomed and accepted with both arms by certain Muslim scholars and organisations. The mere call of any Masjid Trustee or Imaam to a ‘positive’ covid Musalli to ‘quarantine’, etc. is against the lessons and message of Safar which loudly calls out ‘THERE IS NO CONTAGION AT ALL!’ – therefore, there is NO need whatsoever to ask a Musalli to quarantine! In short, the entire basis of contagion stems from atheists since they look for ‘causes’ and ‘effects’ in everything. While Imaan demands that everything is attributed to Allah Ta’ala, atheism is hollow of this Nooraani Belief, obviously.

To the contrary, had ALL the learned men of this Ummah accepted and given preference to the absolute and guaranteed words of Nabi (Sallallahu alaihi wasallam) on contagion – that there is NO such a thing as CONTAGION – then the entire covid-trap of Shaitaan and his allies would have been trampled upon long ago. But, Alas! Some Twitter and Facebook famed scholars are in the fore enforcing their (Shaitaan’s and Dajjal’s) protocols and pokes (jabs) and are subtly undermining the message of the bitter Haq of the Ulama-e-Haq in their Haraam videoed speeches with their sweet venomous tongues! Have such scholars not taken heed from the powerful message of Safar – there is NO contagion?!

May Allah Ta’ala help us to keep the message of Safar which is echoed in the various Ahaadith of His Beloved Rasool (Sallallahu alaihi wasallam) fresh in our minds, hearts, lives, surroundings and in our everything, Aameen.

There is NO contagion in any disease
– the clear message of safar!

How then can Trustees, Imaams and scholars bar Musallis or ask Musallis to ‘quarantine’ if they appear to have the human-age-old sickness of flu and fever?

This is utter balderdash! This is Shaitaanियat!

This is Dajjalियat!

There is NO superstitious beliefs in Islaam – the clear message of Safar!

There is NO bad-luck in the month of Safar – the clear message of Safar!
